MEDICINAL.

The Dinner Pail

Of the American working man is generally well filled. In some cases it is too well filled. It contains too many kinds of food, and very often the food is of the wrong kind—hard to digest and containing little nutrition. As a consequence many a working man develops some form of stomach trouble which interferes with his health and reduces his working capacity.

Where there is indigestion or any other indication of disease of the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition, the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will almost invariably produce a perfect and permanent cure.

Mr. Thomas A. Swartz, of Sub Station C. Columbus, O., writes: "I was taken with severe headache, then cramps in the stomach, and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble and my back got weak so I could scarcely get around. At last I had all the complaints at once, the more I doctor the worse I got until six years passed. I had become so poorly I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I got so thin I had grown up and after I had taken eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and made a new man out of myself. The first bottle helped me so I thought I would get another, and after I had taken eight bottles in about six weeks, I was weighed, and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds. I am as stout and healthy as I ever was, and I never was so well as I am now."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Discovery, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH

This REMEDY is sure to GIVE Satisfaction. ELY'S Cream Balm Gives Relief at Once. It cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It enters cathartically and drives away a cold in the head quickly. It is absorbed. Heals and protects the membrane. Restores the sense of taste and smell. Full size 50c. at Druggists or by mail. Trial size 10c. by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren Street New York.

Letters from Women

Cured by the use of Kodol are received daily. Their troubles nearly all begin with indigestion or other stomach disorder. If the food you eat fails to give strength to your body, it is because the juices secreted by the stomach and digestive organs are inadequate to transform the nutrient properties of the food into blood. That is indigestion. The system is deprived of the amount of nourishment required to keep up the strength, and the result is that one or more of the delicate organs gradually grows weak, and then weaker, until finally it is diseased. Here a great mistake is made. That of treating the diseased organ. The best doctors in the land make this very mistake. Why should they? It is so easy to see that the trouble is not there.

Kodol Cures

This famous remedy puts the stomach and digestive organs in a healthy condition so that rich, red blood is sent coursing through the veins and arteries of every muscle, tissue and fiber throughout every organ of the entire body, and by Nature's law of health, full strength and vigor is soon restored to each. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders. I have taken Kodol for nearly two months after each meal and it is the only remedy that gave relief from the terrible pains I endured. After a time I would take it but once a day, and now, while I keep a bottle handy, I seldom need it, as it has cured me. Mrs. J. W. COOLBAUGH, Milo Center, N. Y.

Kodol Digests What You Eat.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY TRIUMPHANT.

Inventor William Marconi sent the following message yesterday morning direct to Poldhu, Cornwall, from his station on Cape Cod:

His Majesty King Edward VII, London (by Marconi trans-Atlantic wireless telegraphy).

In taking advantage of the wonderful triumph of scientific research and ingenuity which has been achieved in perfecting a system of wireless telegraphy I extend, on behalf of the American people, most cordial greetings and good wishes to you and to all the people of the British Empire. THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

The reply came by the same means, as follows:

The President, White House, Washington, America:

I thank you most sincerely for the kind message which I have just received from you through Marconi's trans-Atlantic wireless telegraphy. I sincerely reciprocate in the name of the people of the British Empire the cordial greetings and friendly sentiment expressed by you on behalf of the American nation and I heartily wish you and your country every possible prosperity. EDWARD, King of the United Kingdom.

These were not only the first full messages sent by wireless telegraphy between Wellfleet and Poldhu, but the first letters and the first attempt to establish communication.

Mr. Marconi availed himself of the words sent by the President for his initial attempt to test the perfection of his arrangement. He said when announcing the achievement: "We were really not quite ready, but had reached a point where a trial was warranted. A set of signals was prearranged for such purposes, but, as was remarked by Mr. Bradfield, who was with me, 'Why not use the President's message?' We did so accordingly, and then called called up Glace Bay to assure ourselves of the success of our efforts. The message was repeated to Glace Bay and sent thence. While this was in progress we got the signal, by way of Glace Bay, that the message directed to Poldhu had gone through all right."

There was no mistaking the air of exultation that prevailed in Mr. Marconi's manner. His usually quiet, reserved demeanor had relaxed perceptibly and there were unmistakable signs of relief from a heavy mental burden. He said there was no hitch in the process of sending.

"It is enough for us to know," he said, "that a message can be sent that distance, more than 3,000 miles, and we have no reason to suppose there was any special difficulty over there."

The message from President Roosevelt was sent in the morning at one o'clock, the moments prearranged between the stations when something might be looked for. This scheme is necessary on account of the delicacy of the apparatus and the conditions that have occupied Mr. Marconi at Wellfleet, Mass., for the last three days. Mr. Marconi said there was much to be done here yet, his expression being: "Of course, we are all in a heap just now," but he added in response to an inquiry that he expected to be ready for commercial business in a few months.

THIEF'S BITE PROVES FATAL.—Blood poison from a thief's bite proved fatal yesterday to John Collins, a Brooklyn policeman, who had suffered 10 months from the injury. The new treatment of the disease by injecting formalin in the veins was tried when too late to save the man's life. The policeman picked up the thief on the street. The man, who had stolen an armful of harness, dropped his booty and started to fight. During the struggle that ensued the policeman was bitten on the hand. Shortly afterward the policeman was attacked with eruptions. He was on sick leave for some time, but got better. Last Friday he became ill again and went to the hospital, where the formalin treatment was given him, but he grew steadily worse until yesterday when he died.

FOREIGN LABOR.—The action of the farmers and truckers of Northampton county in organizing for the purpose of securing foreign labor for their farms has attracted much attention and will probably lead to similar action in many other sections, as but little dependence can now be put in local labor in various parts of the State. There is usually an exodus of negroes to northern points in the spring, where they secure work during the summer, returning to Virginia in the fall and loafing through the months of winter.

Kindly Take Notice that Ely's Liquid Cream Balm is of great benefit to those sufferers from nasal catarrh who cannot inhale freely through the nose, but must treat themselves by spraying. Liquid Cream Balm differs in form, but not medicinally, from the Cream Balm that has stood for years at the head of remedies for catarrh. It may be used in any nasal atomizer. The price, including a spraying tube, is 75 cts. Sold by druggists and mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.
